TeYosh consists of Sofija Stanković (b. 1990) and Teodora Stojković (b. 1989). The duo was founded in 2010. In 2013 Sofija graduated in animation, while Teodora graduated a year earlier in graphic design and visual communication, both in Belgrade. Recently they graduated from Sandberg Institute (Gerrit Rietveld Academy) in Amsterdam(NL) with a masters degree in design. They live and work in Amsterdam. Their design is mostly based on clear, often provocative and humorous statements that aim to start a dialogue with the public and connect design to other professional fields.

After TeYosh's solo exhibition in Belgrade (SRB) in January 2015 their project DICTIONARY OF ONLINE BEHAVIOR gained a lot of media attention in Serbian prominent newspaper, TV and radio shows. Same year DICTIONARY OF ONLINE BEHAVIOR was exhibited in MOTI museum (Museum of the Image) in Breda(NL) as a part of Planet Hype exhibition.

Recently they collaborated with artist Geoffrey Lillemon on a VR project for the permanent piece MOTI VR for MOTI museum.
